

Sheffield show an interest in Scott

TERRY Scott, the unsettled Wycombe Wanderers striker, has played twice in the past ten days for Sheffield United's reserve team.

Scott, whose recent visits to West Germany and the United States indicate a wish to make a living from the game, impressed the Sheffield general manager Harry Haslam in a friendly against Tring a fortnight ago.

Mr Haslam immediately invited Scott up for trials and he has twice played for the reserves in midweek. The Third Division club wanted him to play last Saturday but Wycombe boss Mike Keen would not wear that.

So Scott, whose football future is still in the balance, will be playing for the Wanderers in their Berger Isthmian League visit to Boreham Wood tomorrow (Saturday).

Formation

But one man who will miss this key game is mid-field man Howard Kennedy, attending a family wedding. Normally his place would have been taken by Jim Jacobs, but his wife of two months has been taken ill.

So Mr Keen seems set to alter his formation, playing only two men upfront and bringing both Ken Wilson and Steve Long back into mid-field. This should allow leading scorer Terry Glynn, dropped last week, to return to the side.

He missed Wycombe's disastrous 2-1 defeat at home by Hendon, who for 30 minutes looked one of the best sides to have visited Loakes Park this season. They took advantage of two early defensive slips to go ahead and held on with some dubious time-wasting tactics near the end.

With Slough and Enfield both winning, Wycombe's title hopes took a severe jolt and they must now win their last four away games to stand a chance of taking the championship.

Victory at Boreham Wood tomorrow would get them back on course.

Lee inspires the Reserves

Camberley Reserves 0, Wycombe Reserves 2

WYCOMBE Reserves could not repeat their feat of putting 10 goals past their opponents in their Suburban League North Division match on Saturday, indeed only the arrival of Tim Lee could spark them into action at Camberley Reserves.

Both sides had their chances in the first half, but unlike the previous week, Wycombe did not take them. However, in the 57th minute Tim Lee, having recovered from a broken toe received in a friendly at Oxford, came on for Kevin Stansbridge.

It was Lee who set up the first goal. He played a long through ball to Simon Dexter, who chipped the ball over the 'keeper to give Wycombe a 73rd minute lead.

Then Lee took a free kick which was collected by Anton Vircaus, who put the ball in the net, to assure his side of the 'double' over Camberley, and send them into third place.

Wilson hits 25 yarder

Wycombe Wands 3, F.C. Vard 0

KEN Wilson, who missed a sitter of a chance from three yards in the closing minutes of Saturday's match against Hendon, crashed home a brilliant 25 yard effort against F.C. Vard on Monday night.

His spectacular goal came just before the end of a friendly against the Norwegian Division Two side Vard, who are on a pre-season tour of Britain. So the Blues repeated the 3-0 scoreline they recorded against the same opponents 12 months ago.

Wycombe were always in control against their hard working opponents and went close a couple of times before taking the lead after half an hour. Steve Long's cross from the right was headed home by Terry Glynn.

Manager Mike Keen gave reserve defender Anton Vircaus his first senior team run-out in the second half. He replaced Phil Bycroft at the centre of the back and performed capably.

Wanderers had the advantage in the air and following two successful aerial challenges — the second by Gary Toll — Mick Holifield volleyed in the second goal after 54 minutes.

After Wilson had rounded off the scoring with that spectacular goal, he came in for some ribbing about being better at shooting from a long way out. He may live to regret scoring a goal like that, although there were not many there to see it!

WYCOMBE: C. Way; P. Birdseye (sub: S. Dexter 55 mins), G. Borg, R. Davies, P. Bycroft (sub: A. Vircaus 45 mins), R. Dell, S. Long, M. Holifield, K. Wilson, T. Scott (sub: G. Toll 45 mins), T. Glynn.

Half-time 1-0. Scorers: Wycombe — Glynn (30 mins), Holifield (54); Wilson (84).
